SEEKING: Lieutenant Governor

1. Why are you seeking your office?

During the Obama administration, I watched the news upset at the direction of the country and told my wife, “Somebody ought to do something.” She told me I was someone who could do something, and I ran for state Senate. When my first son died at 14 of a medical condition, our community rallied around my family. I’ve benefited from public service and have strived to pay it forward throughout the rest of my life. I’ve stood for conservative principles in the Senate because conservatism works – and as LG, I want to keep us a proven conservative pathway.

2. What do you expect to accomplish if elected?

I will protect the conservative legislative accomplishments that I’ve championed – gun rights, the heartbeat bill, stopping illegal immigration, banning CRT, keeping biological males out of girls sports and many other conservative causes. Moving forward, I want to boost Georgia’s competitiveness by eliminating the income tax -- as Florida and Tennessee have – and keep the best state for business and for families. I’m the only candidate in this race who has a substantive record of writing and passing conservative priorities into law.

3. What distinguishes your candidacy?

Conservative leadership and vision. As the self-made businessman in this race, I know what it takes to start and grow a business that creates jobs. Perhaps that’s why I voted to protect businesses that reopened during the pandemic while my opponent did not. I am the only candidate with conservative accomplishments: cracking down on illegal immigration, expanding gun rights, passing the heartbeat bill, lowering taxes, restoring election integrity and fighting crime. This year, I passed legislation to Save Girls Sports, ban CRT and protect parents’ rights. I will continue to fight to ban noncitizen voting and for greater school choice.

4. Pick any one issue. Expand on how you will address it.

I will stand strongly with parents to restore common sense to public schools – and provide more choices when the local public school isn’t the right fit. I support parents’ rights to be heard by school boards – while Biden wants them investigated. This year, I passed bills banning CRT, saving girls sports and protecting the rights of parents who disagree with the school board. As LG, parents will have an advocate who protects their voices and expands their choices.

5. What are your ideas on curbing all the many area-wide shooting?

Liberal cities across the country have emboldened deadly criminals. They no longer fear prosecution from put-criminals-first DAs and police have stepped back, understandably worried their lives will be destroyed by the woke mob if something goes awry when trying to stop a violent encounter. We must back the blue and rebuild the staffing and morale of police departments and we must end the revolving doors of the criminal justice system when it comes to violent repeat offenders. Lastly, I strongly support constitutional carry this session, and I believe it stands up for the rights of law-abiding citizens to protect themselves.

6. Please give a 100 word summary on your background

My most important roles are as a Christian family man and small business owner. I grew up in Buford and worked my way through college. During college, I met the love of my life, Teresa, and we raised three sons. Our oldest son, Cole, passed away at 14 from a severe health condition he had from birth. Our sons Carey and Charlie and their wives are both expecting their first children! For decades now, I've owned Milton Martin Honda in Gainesville, and that has shaped my views as a Senator because I know the challenges that job creators face.
